Truck Strike Hits At Belle Glade

March Of Dimes Walkathon Nears

A former March of Dimes poster girl will make a whirlwind tour of the Glades the last day of the month to help promote the second annual Glades walkathon set for March 2.

Last year the walkathon raised over $11,500. This placed the Glades first in per capita raised for the March of Dimes in Palm Beach County.

According to walkathon organizer, Mrs. Marjorie Echols, the former poster girl will be in the Glades just for the day. She is scheduled to take a tour of area schools after lunching in Belle Glade. The March of Dimes will be trying to triple what it raised last year in the Glades. In 1972 over 400 area teenagers took part in the walkathon. Those living in Pahokee walked from Pahokee to Belle Glade and back. Those living in Belle Glade walked the same route in reverse.

The teenagers obtained local sponsors to pay them a set amount of money however many miles they walked.

The key to this year's drive is to get the entire community involved, said Mrs. Echols. The March of Dimes is the

Queen Hopes Fade

Hopes for a 1974 Harvest Queen pageant continued to fade this week as no clubs or groups in the area expressed interest in promoting it after the Belle Glade Jaycees dropped it.

Jaycee President J.D. "Butch" Henderson said two weeks ago the Jaycees definitely would not be sponsoring the pageant this year, breaking at 20 year old tradition.

Belle Glade Junior Women's Club President Mary Armstrong said that club's board of directors met Jan. 31 to discuss the possibility the Juniors might take the responsibility of putting on the pageant.

"There's going to be a general meeting next Tuesday (Feb. 12)," Mrs. Armstrong said, "and we're going to bring it up then but it doesn't look as though we'll take it on."

She said she was sure the membership would sponsor it another active group or club decided to promote the pageant and asked the Juniors' help.

"It's just too large a project for the size of our membership right now," Mrs. Armstrong said. "We just don't believe we have enough members to take something this size."

"The only way we could take on this kind of responsibility," said said, "would be to drop some of our other projects. This kind of activity would take a lot of time to do right."

"But you know," she said, "it would take a long time to build the Harvest Queen back up to where it was four or five years ago from where it was last year and it would probably take longer now."

Mrs. Armstrong said she knew of no other clubs which had expressed interest in taking over the pageant. She said she had been contacted by the Chamber of Commerce to be interested.

Chamber President Ben Clarke said Tuesday he had received no firm reply from the Juniors and said he had heard no one talking about promoting the pageant.

The Jaycees decided late in December not to hold the Harvest Queen this year, according to Henderson, because there was no one in the club with the experience and time to work on it and because the club's financial condition was such the members didn't feel they could bear the cost.

He said the pageant had lost money for years.

Pray. Nothing else is working, seems to be the message of this Belle Glade motorist. With a fuel shortage, an energy crisis, high food prices, the Middle East problem, Watergate and a few other minor problems facing him, President Nixon might agree with the down-home plea.

Escort Offered, But No Takers

With no trucks available Wednesday, Glades produce brokers were being offered an escort past striking truckers in an effort to get fruit and vegetables on the road again.

A check of several brokers in the area, however, indicated there wasn't a single truck available to form into a convoy.

"I had a call from Tallahassee this morning," one broker, who asked not to be identified, said, "offering an escort but what good is an escort when you don't have any trucks?"

"If I don't know a single truck in town this morning," he said, "The people who want to offer us an escort today are the same damn people who caused the strike in the first place."

Skipper Bowles of DeWitt Brokerage was typical of those interviewed Wednesday morning.

"I can't believe it," he said. "I don't know exactly what's going on or who's doing it. I do know why they're doing it though."

He said the major reason trucks are striking across the nation is the price of fuel, which has increased over the last year of 15 cents per gallon for diesel fuel.

"When you figure a single trip to New York is about 1,500 miles," he said, "and figuring four miles to the gallon, you can see what that's doing to the truckers."

"None of my truckers are on strike," he said, "but they're scared to death and I can see why. They can't afford to have their rigs wrecked."

"It's a pitiful situation," Bowles said. "It's affecting us for certain. It's hurting us, the shippers and the farmers. If you can't move produce, you can't sell it."

He said one of the problems is that no one seems to know who is behind the strike.

"We keep hearing the strike is being headed by independent truckers," he said, "but all the truckers are independent. You hear so much about them they will do but nobody seems to know who they are."

Bowles said he had been shipping regularly, although in decreased quantities, until Wednesday. He said that was the first day there were no trucks at all available.

He said he had also heard about the offer for an escort possibly all the way to the northern markets, but said he had no trucks to form into an escort.

"We have one truck on the lot," he said, "and the driver left it here and went home last week. He said he would be back when the strike is over."

The escort offer was being made by the State Department of Agriculture and Florida Dept. of Agriculture in an effort to insure the safety of truckers who want to keep hauling produce.

Conner was reportedly meeting with agricultural officials from other states to work out some method of escorting truckers all the way to market outlets.

Dr. Elmer Clouse of the department's division of marketing said, "there is some validity in this offer of escort" but just how effective it will be once they're out of Florida, I don't know."

He said officials from the State Department of Agriculture have requested officials from other states to insure the safety of the truckers but nothing definitely had been settled by Wednesday morning.

He said the offer has definitely been made in Florida and said it has been accepted in some areas such as Fort Myers and Pompano Beach.

He said the problem caused by the strike is general and he didn't think any one area was hit appreciably harder than any other.

Close said officials in the "receiver" states, the major market areas such as New York City and Boston, have been aware of the situation and taken no action he is aware of. "I do have word they're beginning to feel the pinch."

He said the shortages on grocery shelves won't be felt immediately, that it will take some time before the produce already shipped begins to really dry up.

"They (the northern states) probably won't do anything, one local official said, "until John Q. Public goes to the grocery store and finds the shelves empty. That's probably when you'll really start seeing some action."

"The biggest problem," Close said, "is that the trucks going north simply haven't been returning to the shipping points, at least not in sufficient quantities."

Special Election Date Now Set For March

The South Bay City Commission Monday night unanimously accepted former Mayor-Commissioner John Deaton's resignation and began action to hold a special election to replace him about the middle of March.

Deaton wrote his letter of resignation following the last regular city commission meeting on Jan. 15 after an argument about whether he should be required to seek commission approval over the hiring of personnel in his department.

"For the past two years," he wrote, "I have tried to keep some semblance of order on the commission but it has become impossible."

Deaton argued he should be allowed to operate the department he is responsible for without the interference of the other commissioners.

Commissioners Woodrow "Woody" O'Neal and Neal Mayo contended decisions as those involving hiring and firing of personnel should be made by the commission as a whole.

Deaton's resignation came after the commission voted over his strenuous objections, to hire Mrs. Faye Tillman, a former city clerk, to work in the city hall.

"I don't have anything against her," Mrs. Tillman, Deaton said Tuesday night, "but I didn't like the way another commissioner approached her and the commission hired her over my head."

"Is that what you really want?" O'Neal asked Deaton Tuesday night after the letter of resignation was read.

"Yes," Deaton said, "it is."

Mayo then said that if resignation was what Deaton really wants, "I move we accept his resignation."

Following the acceptance, City Clerk Virginia Walker was directed to advertise the city would hold a special election about the middle of March.

She said the election would probably take place March 12, acted on by the commission as a whole.

Relief From Gas Shortage Promised

Lines at local service stations were still longer than usual this week but relief had been promised in the form of extra fuel allocations for South Florida following the intervention of U.S. Rep. Paul Rogers.

With an increasing number of stories that service stations north of Fort Pierce have a plentiful supply of high octane go-jucose, there was a possibility some of it would be diverted this way. Several visitors to the area this past week, who had come south from points north, said they couldn't believe the length of the lines at local fueling points, or the local service stations have often been closed because they had pumped their tanks dry.

Okeelanta Is First To Grind Down

Gulf and Western's Okeelanta Sugar Mill was the first to begin grinding for the 1973-74 sugar cane harvesting season and will be the first to grind down on Feb. 20.

"This has been a good year," General Manager Arthur Kirstein said. "We've had a pretty good yield; we've gotten in some heavy grinding; the freeze didn't do too much damage and we're finishing up a little early."

Kirstein said the cane yield is "about the same" this year as the U.S. Sugar Mill at Bryant.

He said the mill has ground an average of approximately 9,000 tons of sugar cane per day and will have ground approximately 1.1 million tons.

Who's On First? No, Who's On Third! Neither Is On Sewer!

No one seemed sure of anything Tuesday night when the South Bay City Commission tried to find out whether the city has an operating sewage system and who accepted it, if anybody has.

Although there are already a handful of residents connected to the sewer system, the city's first, the man responsible for operating the treatment plant said the system isn't complete, no matter what the city's engineers say.

Donald M. Shepherd of Robert E. Owen & Associates, the West Palm Beach firm acting as the city's consulting engineers, said in a letter the plant, "is substantially complete and in our opinion can be released for service."

But W.E. Balmer, the city's water treatment plant supervisor who will also be responsible for operating the sewage treatment plant, said he isn't satisfied with the system and has told Shepherd that.

Because of the number of questions raised during the meeting, the commission decided to call for a meeting with Owen & Associates to discuss the new system.

"There are seven lift stations on the line," he said, "and only one is in operation. There is no lab equipment at the plant said the flow transmitter isn't working yet."

"There is no way I can run the plant to meet the state specifications," Balmer said, "because I'm not equipped to run it."

Balmer said he is also dissatisfied with the sewerage lines which have been turned ready for operation, saying there is too much infiltration of ground water.

"There's one lift station over here," he said, pointing to the Northeast part of town, "with two pumps. It's about 13 to 15 feet deep and it sounds like a waterfall down there."

"There is only one home connected to the line," he said, "and one pump has already run for 15 hours and the other for 15 hours...and that's with nothing on the line."

"That's not right," Balmer said. He said without the flow transmitter, which is supposed to be installed and operating sometime this week, there is no way of telling how much seepage is in the lines.

"We have a 500,000 gallon capacity at the plant," he said, "and if we have too much infiltration, we'll be overloaded."

He said he had tried to borrow a piece of equipment to measure the flow to see how much infiltration there is on the line but said he had been unable to locate the device.

Balmer said the contractor had also failed to equip the treatment plant laboratory, which is supposed to be part of the contract.

"I could go out and buy the equipment I need," he said, "but why should the city have to pay for it when it's supposed to be included in the contract?"

Despite Balmer's reservations, City Clerk Virginia Walker said she had already mailed notices to city residents the system is ready for connections and they have a 90-day period to connect their homes to the system.

She said she took the step on the advice of Shepherd and independent consultant John Stewart.

Commissioner Woodrow "Woody" O'Neal asked City Attorney Allen Eversard several questions concerning the system.

"First of all," O'Neal said, "I would like to know who accepted the sewer. I thought the city commission was supposed to decide when to accept it."

Eversard said he didn't know who had accepted it but, when shown a copy of Shepherd's letter, said the engineer had.

"I'm going on record that I'm not going to approve nothing," O'Neal told Eversard, "until you advise me to. You're the attorney and you're supposed to guide us."

O'Neal also said the contractor hadn't fulfilled his obligations because, although the system was supposed to be available to everyone in South Bay, there were some places where connections aren't available.

He said he had heard that neither the Sawgrass Restaurant nor Billy Rogers' office have connections available and said he doesn't see how he can be required to hook up to the system when someone else in the city isn't required to.

Mrs. W. said there were some places in the city which have a available connection point because the city didn't have and couldn't get the right of way to install the line.

"That should have all been settled by the engineers," Commissioner Neal Mayo said.

O'Neal asked he didn't believe he, or anyone else, could be required to hook up to the system when other city residents are exempt.

Neither is on sewer!

Too Many Trucks

We are in complete sympathy with at least one of the chamber of Commerce's goals.

That is the establishing of a truck routes around the city. We first took this fight up last season as we watched truck after truck come roaring through town at speeds of 40-miles-an-hour and up.

Sitting right here at the end of Main St. we had a pretty good view of them barreling off the State Rd. 80. It was frightening.

This season, we must admit, doesn't seem to be as bad. After our editorials last year we saw local police starting to pull over more and more trucks. The sugar industry, we felt, cracked down on their own, telling them to cut their trucks. And they have.

Trucks are going down Main St. a lot slower than they did last year as a result. But they are still going down Main St.

And that is where the rub is. They shouldn't be there at all. They are a safety hazard no matter how slow they go.

Because of the way parking is situated on Main St. cars must back out onto the street from almost anywhere they park. Most of the time drivers' vision is blocked by other cars.

Trucks just aren't as agile as cars. They can't dodge out of the way as quickly as cars. And when they do dodge, they don't have much room to dodge as smaller cars.

The amount of foot traffic along Main St. is another good reason for keeping trucks away. It is more difficult for a truck, no matter what speed it is going, to miss a child who has darted across traffic.

Yes, trucks are a vital part of our economy. The current truck strike proves that. But any town of any size has a special road trucks must follow around the outskirts of that town.

Is it time Belle Glade did the same.

Clear As Mud

If ever the crying need for a city administrator in South Bay was illustrated, it was at the regular city commission meeting Monday night.

Following a discussion on the city's new sewage disposal system, about the only thing that was firmly settled is that no one knows for sure what is happening...or if they do, they're not talking.

Although City Clerk Virginia Walker has sent out notices to city residents they have 90 days to hook up to the new sewage lines, none of the commissioners, nor the city attorney, could say who accepted the system, if anyone has, or who has the authority to accept it.

Still with us? City consulting engineers Robert E. Owen & Associates of West Palm Beach advised the system is essentially complete and should be accepted.

They, and independent consultant John Stewart, were the ones who advised Mrs. Walker, according to her, to send out the notices.

On the other hand, Ed Balmer, the man expected to run the treatment plant, said it isn't complete enough to operate according to state specifications.

Since he's licensed to operate such plants, he should know what he's talking about, but then, one would also expect the city's engineers to know what they're talking about.

So if all these people: the commissioners, the attorney, the engineers, the city clerk and apparently everyone concerned, seemed so confused, it was no wonder the city residents making up the audience were confused.

If the people accountable for running the city don't know what the situation is, how can they possibly expect the city's population to know what is going on. To quote the clypsop singer, it was clear as mud but it covered the ground and the confusion made the head go round.

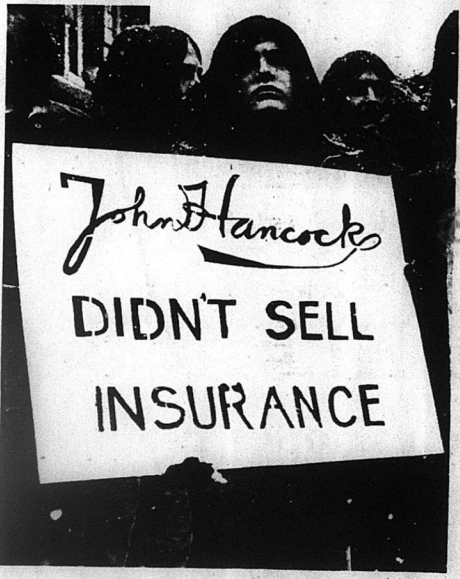

We've said it before and we'll say it again. South Bay needs some kind of city administrator. It's grown to the point the present system simply isn't working, much less operating efficiently.

Mrs. Walker, as city clerk, does a good job as far as we can see. We're not criticizing her efforts.

But South Bay needs both a city clerk and a city administrator. The combined job is too much to reasonably expect any one person to accomplish.

A city manager, if he or she were given the proper authority and responsibility, would also have made unnecessary former Mayor John Deaton's resignation. One person, with the authority to act as administrator and responsible to the commission, would have made the whole argument about whether each commissioner should discuss all his or her department's problems with the other commissioners meaningless.

And one person, able to bring all the strings together, could present the commission with a package it could understand and act on without the necessity of understanding all the technical details.

THE 200TH YEAR conversation in a belfry

By Archibald MacLeish

Centennial bell that will not ring.

tell me why your iron tongue

rusts in the rain, your mouth is dumb.

Why are you Silent, Bell?

For shame.

You are not ashamed.

Not I but you.

We? With all we've done and do?

We've ruled ourselves two hundred years.

No name on earth is proud as ours.

It was your father's pride that ruled:

their sons are tricked and lied to, fooled

as Lincoln thought no people could all of them-always-for their good!

But still we're free. Ring out! O ring!

What men is free when fraud is king?

Our souls are ours: our minds our own.

Your master listens on the telephone.

We govern. It is we decide.

You to whom your government has lied!

Ring out and all will understand this is John Adams' well-loved land...

John Adams would have seen you damned.

...where Jefferson's immortal word...

Jefferson's immortal word is yet to hear. It will be heard but not by those who sell his soul.

You ring now, bell.

I toll. I toll.

Those Income Tax, Goodbye Money Blues

They've got you coming or going. It's probably early for a lot of people but there are those of us who have already got a bad case of those income tax return, watch the money fly out the window blues.

This is the time of year I find myself secretly pulling for people with enough brass to try to get away with income tax evasion.

On the other hand, I'm quite cheerful about it when they get caught. Psychologists call that ambivalence...being simultaneously attracted and repelled by the same thing.

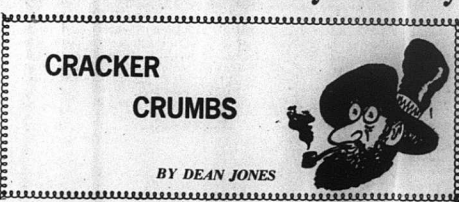

I call it envy and frustration...and if I've got to have it soaked to me every year, so should you...but if you get away with it, for God's sake show me how you did it-so I can too.

For one reason or another, I've never been able to save money by filling out the long form, you know, that book, complete with addenda, appendices, amendments and bibliography laughing referred to as form 1040.

But this year was different. As a 1973 gradually unfolded, I found myself forced to spend more and more point of the realm on good old tax deductible items.

This year, I was really going to make a killing off Uncle Sam. For once, I was going to be the sock-er instead of the sock-ee. The way I figured it, I was going to get back somewhere between $600 and $1,000. Well, at least I didn't have to pay Washington any more than I already had, but it sure was a painful learning experience.

I think I've already stated in a previous column that the only requirement I know of to be a true Jones is to not have two dimes to rub against each other.

The only thing I can figure is someone in Washington must have heard the same thing because someone up there is doing his bureaucratic best to see I stay in the family.

By the time my education was complete, I found what the requirements were to become a tax expert. You just have to be a master in bureaucracy, hold a PhD in higher mathematics and be an expert in the language of the ancient Greeks.

Well, it was sure Greek to me! Seems to me the average American should be able to figure out his own tax return, making all the proper deductions without breaking the law, by reading the instructions on filling out Form 1040.

You would think the 10-volume treatise you stagger out of the Post Office with, supposedly the complete set of instructions, would be enough to fill out one paltry tax return statement.

Uh-uh. It didn't work that way. First of all, I found Form 1040 wasn't enough if I wanted to claim off the record

with Glenn Laney

Typographical errors have a way of catching up with you.

Such is the case of one made in this column last week. So many times they come out saying exactly the opposite of what you meant to say. It can prove embarrassing.

Last week I was comparing the recent growth of South Bay with that of Belle Glade. It was my contention that because of its new sewer system, South Bay would continue to grow rapidly while Belle Glade would lag behind.

And up popped the sentence, "And no Western Auto is going into the old Willis." Of course it should have read, "And now Western Auto is going into the old Willis." One little letter dropped and the entire meaning of the sentence is changed.

Sorry about that Western Auto. As a matter of fact, Western Auto is moving to South Bay. Joseph Lakotos who took over the Belle Glade store last year is expanding.

He has turned the operation into a family affair with his wife, children and in-laws doing most of the work. He says a need for such a store in South Bay and he made his move.

Western Auto-South Bay style-will be open for business this Saturday. Grand opening day will be later in the month, Feb. 18 to be exact.

Flew my first airplane in over three years the other day. Went with Sunny II learned to land and take off on dikes! Stalls chief of the Clewiston News to Immokalee and back last week.

I am a licensed pilot with over 150 hours in small planes. Sunny and I were flying a Cessna 172 which has four seats and one engine. It was a plane I had many hours in.

But oh-what a difference three years make. Back then, before you could even get your license, you had to make several turns in the aircraft around a designated point on the ground. The catch was you had to make this turn while tilted at at least a 40 degree angle.

To further complicate the matter, the plane could not vary in altitude more than 50 feet up or down.

Well, three years later, I had difficulty holding the aircraft within 100 feet up or down flying straight and level. It was a funny feeling.

The most impressive thought I had on the flight was the vast amount of land still wide open for development. There is practically nothing between Clewiston and Immokalee. When you stop to think of all the overpopulated areas of the world with thousands of people starving, it doesn't seem to make sense that so much rich land just sets there doing nothing.

The trip to Immokalee was to talk with some of the good people over there about printing their "Harvest Queen" book. Actually it is the annual beauty pageant held in Immokalee which is centered around Agriculture and the harvest, much like Belle Glade's now seemingly defunct Harvest Queen contest.

This is THE big event in Immokalee. It brings the entire community together more than at any other time of the year. Just about everybody participates. It is a tradition they not only cling to, but make bigger and better every year.

Meanwhile, Belle Glade's Harvest Queen contest seems to be passing the way of the dodo bird and other extinct animals.

One very active, hard working group has been contacted about taking it over. I don't think it would be fare to name them. But they said they couldn't carry the load all by themselves. But they said if another group would lead they would be more than willing followers.

As it stands right now, however, the Harvest Queen contest is a thing of the past unless some organization comes forward in the near future.

The office called John Grady's office this week and the girl at the other end of the phone asked, "Glenn Laney's left on his way ticket to Alaska, hasn't he?"

I guess I'm not very popular down there after writing last week I didn't think John had much of a chance to become one of the next United States Senators from Florida.

At that point in time (ugh) Grady had not actually announced his candidacy. But now he has.

So let me make one thing perfectly clear (ugh again) as I thought I had last week. There was nothing derogatory in the past. You can't doubt his sincerity and dedication.

But the mass media isn't going to give him the exposure he needs to win statewide office unless he pays for it. And that is going to take lots of dollars. That's lots of dollars I know John doesn't have and many more dollars than the fledgling American Party has.

U.S. Senator from Belle Glade would sound great. But.

The one I really feel sorry for is the Grady's pretty wife Carol. For the fourth time in less than two years she is finding herself a political widow. It's difficult for a woman to run a house, a stable and take care of the kids and the horses all at the same time.

And yes, in her copious free time she attends school at Florida Atlantic. Actually, Grady might be able to do that whatever vote he would normally get if he took her along with him on the campaign trail-she's that impressive.

Spanish for our Cuban friends.

Speaking of taxes, have you ever thought how nice it would be if Joe Workingman were considered to be just another business?

First of all, according to state courts and the Public Service Commission here in the State of Excitement, we could charge off our income tax as a operating expense.

That's what the Florida Supreme Court decided last week. They said the corporate income tax enacted last year should be allowed as an operating expense to be passed on to the consumer.

Now, that just shows to go you how you can be so mistaken about something that seemed so clear. Seems to me the tax was written up as a corporate profits tax, to be levied on corporations' profits after they'd already deducted their operating expenses.

Figuring things like that, I ought to be able to charge my taxes off by getting an increase in pay to offset the amount taken out of my paycheck in taxes.

Course, if I did that, there would be a heavier tax laid on my income because it would have increased, probably putting me in another category.

Still... Too, a corporation is able to charge off operating expenses as tax deductible. Now, we all know the government allows us a generous $750 per person to his home last year ever tried to make it on $750 income a year?

Come to think of it, that was just about what I had to live on last year after taxes. Hummm.

Now a horticulture major at the University of Florida in Gainesville, Bussey took the photo, with a camera he bought from local insurance agent Milton Carpenter, while on a trip to Colorado, returning by way of the Smokies.

He made the trip with his father, I. Asbill, his physics teacher at GCHS, and his family. The picture is of Asbill's son on the mountain in a sea of high grass.

"We arrived," Bussey said, "at seven in the morning and I couldn't wait to go to the top of the mountain. So Dory and I got the two boys and left almost immediately. While on top, I took a couple of pictures of them and there it was."

Bussey originally entered his picture in a local contest being sponsored by the Palm Beach Post-Times.

Awww, isn't that precious?

The whole world loves a lover and that's one of my favorite sections of the Herald...the place where you find all the local people who are getting engaged and married.

I'm Cindy. Remember? And I guess I'm no different from most girls, I may be a bit young but every time I see a story about a young couple in love, I get all teary-eyed. I guess the only thing that gets me more excited is the chance to really get into a newspaper (like I am here.)

One of these days, I'll be getting engaged and married too and you'd better believe I'm going to be telling the world about it. One thing about it, too. When I do decide to make the big jump, I'll know where to advertise it.

The Belle Glade Herald is the only newspaper around that carries this kind of social news about everyone in the Glades...and the hometown paper is the one you would naturally use anyway.

En días pasados cumplió 15 años de edad el joven Eduardo Gomez, hijo de los esposos Teresa y Ramon Gomez. Para nosotros es un privilegio tener entre nuestros jóvenes cubanos a Eduardo, quien se distingue como estudiante, como Boy Scout, y como cubano.

Aniversario de Boda

El pasado día 30 de enero cumplieron 33 años de casados los esposos Ramon y Margot Acosta. En esta ocasión también celebró el cumpleaños Momi.

Por esta doble celebración en el hogar de los Acosta, enviamos a ellos nuestras felicitaciones. Que ambos puedan seguir compartiendo juntos tantas bendiciones de Dios como matrimonio, y que por mucho tiempo, puedan seguir gozando de nuevos años de existencia, con gratas y ricas experiencias.

Aprovechamos la oportunidad en que le felicitamos por su cumpleaños, para adelantarle a que siga siendo tan buen estudiante, tan buen Boy Scout, y un joven cubano, del que siempre podamos sentirnos orgullosos.

Pro-Cuba

En días pasados se celebró en West Palm Beach, un acto de recordación a Cuba y de apoyo a la idea lanzada por el Dr. Amelo Reyes de un Gobierno en el exilio. En dicho acto el Dr. Reyes recibió las listas con las firmas de los cubanos que apoyamos esta idea y que le respaldaban con la misma.

Esperamos que pronto se puedan ver los frutos de esta idea, y que mas que antes, nuestra voz pueda ser oída y respetada.

LOS COMUNISTAS

Los comunistas han dado lugar a muchas guerras en las que no han tenido exito. Hay una, sin embargo, en la que han sabido obtener triunfos: en la guerra de apoderarse de palabras y conceptos. Por ejemplo, combaten el imperialismo y el colonialismo; pero contradictoriamente practican uno y otro. Lo peor es que lo hacen en la etapa en que las naciones de Occidente llamadas por ellos imperialistas y colonialistas - abandonan ambos sistemas en su deseo de obtener una era de paz, de libertad y de mejoría del nivel de vida, para todo la Humanidad.

La paradoja no estriba solamente en lo que acabamos de afirmar. "Maestros del Engano", como los llamara quien los conoce bien (1), día a día, contradicen con sus hechos todo lo que apoyan y defienden en los países democráticos que quieren conquistar. Hablan de libertad, de patria, de nacionalismo, y de otros conceptos, que niegan en los pueblos que han dominado. En estos, la libertad desaparece por la tiranía y dictadura que ejercen las clases dirigentes; y los conceptos de patria y de nacionalismo, por la meta que se proponen alcanzar: el dominio universal.

McDaniel, Rogers To Serve

The Heart Association of Palm Beach County this week announced the appointments of the Chairmen of their 1974 commerce and industry fund raising drive in Belle Glade and South Bay.

They are E.B. McDaniel, Jr., President of the Bank of Belle Glade, and Mrs. Billy Rogers of South Bay.

This is McDaniel's ninth year heading the drive and Mrs. Rogers' fifth.

In accepting the appointment, Mrs. Rogers said that residents should keep in mind that their contributions go not only to heart research but also for many projects in their own community.

"In 1973 the Heart Association purchased a Lowry Cardiac Center for Glades General Hospital which has improved care of the cardiac patient greatly," she said.

McDaniel added that eight nurses from Glades General Hospital will have completed a four week advanced coronary care course given at Palm Beach Junior College by the end of the year.

And that means they'll know how to take better care of you or your loved one if they have to have cardiac care," he added.

Both urged local residents to give generously when the Heart Association contacts them.

The chairman of Pahokee Canal Point was also announced. He is H. Kenneth McIntosh, Assistant Vice-President of the Bank of Pahokee. This is his fourth year as chairman.

JERRI KIRCHMAN ANNOUNCES WEDDING ...plans to John William Blakely in near future.

Wedding Date Told

Mr. and Mrs. Louis R. Kirchman of 308 N.W. Ave. H. Place announce the engagement of their daughter, Jerri Blakely, to John William Blakely, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert F. Blakely of 1500 N.W. Ave. G.

The wedding has been set for 7 p.m. Mar. 2 at St. Peter's Lutheran Church.

The bride-elect attended Glades Day School of Pahokee and was graduated in 1972.

She is presently employed by the Florida First National Bank as head bookkeeper.

The groom-elect attended Belle Glade High School and in 1969 enlisted in the U.S. Marine Corps for a two year term. He is presently employed with Chaney and Clark Excavating and Blasting Specialists in Belle Glade.

Kinlaw, Day Wed

Diane Campbell Day became the bride of Arthur Duncan Kinlaw in a double-ring ceremony on Jan. 13 at the St. Andrews Episcopal Church in Lake Worth.

The Rev. David C. Kennedy and the Rev. J. Robert Pollitt Jr. officiated at the service and the bride was given in marriage by her father.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Douglas L. Day of 6807 High Ridge Road in Lantana and the groom is the son of the late Mr. John Handley Kinlaw. He is the foster son of Mr. and Mrs. Richard E. Shoemaker of 1417 N.W. Ave. E. in Belle Glade.

Dennis Kinlaw of Belle Glade served his brother as best man and Miss Diane Anderson of Lake Worth served as Maid of honor.

Miss Sherri McNeill of West Palm Beach and Miss Sandra Hyder of Clewiston were the bridesmaids. Ushers were David Kinlaw and Richard Shoemaker, both of Belle Glade.

The bride wore a princess style, floor length dress with long sleeves and high neck made of polyester satin with self-fabric ruffles trimmed in lace.

She wore her great, great grandmother's cameo, a shoulder length illusion veil and carried a cascade of white and peppermint carnations.

The maid of honor and bridesmaids wore identical gowns except for velvet ribbon trim and hairbows. Their gowns were made of a floral print on white-dotted Swiss floor length peasant-style with long sleeves gathered into cuffs.

Each girl carried a single long-stemmed carnation tied with ribbon streamers matching the trim of her dress.

Following the ceremony, a reception was held at Frazell Hall at the church. Assistant at the reception were the bride's sisters, Miss Lesley Day, Miss Kim Day and Miss Valerie Day.

The couple planned a wedding trip to Disney World, Delaware and New England before making their new home in Tallahassee after the first of February.

The bride is a graduate of Lake Worth High School and Palm Beach Junior College and is a music therapy major at Florida State University.

The bridegroom as a graduate of Glades Central High School and is majoring in criminology at Florida State.

MR. AND MRS. DUNCAN KINLAW ...shortly after their Jan. 13 wedding in Lake Worth.

Engagement Told

LAURA A. ACREE IS ENGAGED TO MARRY ...David LeRoy Grimes of Belle Glade in near future.

Mr. and Mrs. W.H. Acree Jr. of 616 S.E. Ninth St. in Belle Glade, announced this week the engagement of their daughter, Laura Amelia, to David LeRoy Grimes of Belle Glade.

The groom-elect is the son of Mrs. Bonnie Olden of Belle Glade and Mr. Ronald Rimes of Naples, Fla.

Miss Acree is the granddaughter of Mrs. Laura Boree and the late Hubie Boree and Mr. and Mrs. W.H. Acree Sr., all of Belle Glade.

The bride-elect and groom-elect were both graduated from Glades Day School in 1972.

Miss Acree attended classes at Warner Southern College in Lake Wales and Palm Beach Junior College and is currently employed as secretary in her father's construction company. Rimes attended Indian River Community College in Fort Pierce and Palm Beach Junior college. He is currently employed as manager of Lake Welding Supplies, Inc.

A wedding date of May 4 has been set and final plans will be announced later.

Science Fair Planned

Approximately 500 students at Lakeshore Junior High School will be participating in this school's annual science fair Feb. 12-14 at the Lake Shore Material Center.

While the fair lasts Tuesday through Thursday, parents of the participating seventh and eighth graders are especially invited to a Parents' Night Wednesday, Feb. 13 at 7:30 p.m.

Winner Chosen

Belle Glade Mayor Aubrey Farmer (right) draws the winning ticket by which William Hutton of Pahokee won the painting behind the mayor and Mrs. Brenda Prescott, the Ways and Means chairman for Nu Kappa chapter of Beta Sigma Phi sorority. Mrs. Prescott said the proceeds from the drawing will go toward building a home for girls in trouble in the Belle Glade area, based on the Nelle Smith Home in West Palm Beach. The painting was bought by the sorority members from local artist Ann Tyler.

Coke Party Held

Saturday afternoon, February 2, at the home of Mr. & Mrs. Warren Battle Nu Kappa Sorority hosted a coke party for their invited guests.

The valentine theme was carried out with a heart shaped centerpiece for the refreshment table. Matching tablecloth, napkins, plates and cups were used.

Served were assorted nuts, mints, chips and dips, meat rolls and soft drinks.

Guests of Nu Kappa were Mrs. Bobby Davis, Mrs. Robert Freeman, Mrs. Ray Hutton II and Miss Patsy Sullivan. Members were Mrs. Glen Angel, Miss Cathy Battle, Mrs. Richard Browning, Mrs. Bob Carter, Mrs. Wynn Jones, Miss Renie Jo Lane, Mrs. Kirby Norman, Mrs. Paul Prescott, Mrs. Ed Rongione, Mrs. Buddy Whitehurst and her son, Trane. It was a very enjoyable afternoon relaxing, socializing and meeting new people.

Old Folks Can Eat Too

The Board of County Commissioners of Palm Beach County is sponsoring a congregating dining program for mature citizens, sixty years old and older. Funds have been made available to the County under Title VII.

Initially, there will be five feeding sites in the entire County. The first site in the Glades Area will be located at Glades Central High School Cafeteria.

Meals will be available five days per week, no week-ends or holidays included. Donations may be given for any meal.

Registration is now taking place from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m., Monday - Friday, at Trailer #5, Palm Beach County Social Services office (formerly Palm Beach County Welfare), directly behind the Palm Beach County Health Department Building.

The first meal will be served on Feb. 19, 4 p.m., and your early registration is requested. If you are unable to come to the trailer, call 996-5546, and additional information will be given.

Tips On Shoplifters

One of the first services being offered city merchants by the Chamber of Commerce Merchants Division during 1974 will be a presentation on shoplifters and how to prevent them.

Deputy Belle Glade Police Chief D. Bill Mathis will be presenting the program, including a film, at 8 p.m. Feb. 13 at the Belle Glade Civic Center according to division chairman Charles Ward.

Ward urged all division members to attend the program.

John Boy Gets White Hat

Florida's second "White Hat" Award for outstanding service to agriculture and related industries has been given to John Boy, president of United States Sugar Corporation, Clewiston.

Boy received the award Feb. 1 at the annual meeting of the Agribusiness Institute of Florida. The Institute is a non-profit group formed to tell all Floridians of the value of agribusiness to the state's economy.

Members include farmers, food processors and distributors as well as agricultural supply firms and service groups.

In making the presentation, Institute President Fred Y. Montedecosa said Boy "has been an inspiration to all of us in agriculture in supporting research and experimental programs that will eventually improve agricultural production, not only here in Florida, but all over the world."

Under Boy's leadership, United States Sugar Corporation has used its facilities for experimental research in the area of pollution control and abatement.

Results to date have been of benefit not only to the South Florida sugar industry but to the people of the entire area.

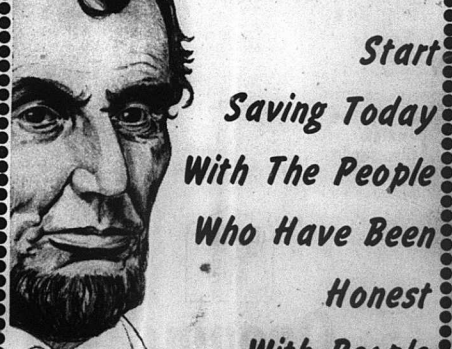

As chairman of the U.S.D.A. Sugarcane Harvesting Committee, Boy has also provided leadership in development of mechanical harvesting capability for sugar cane.

The Agribusiness Institute has over 350 active members. Headquarters are in Orlando. F. Ray Dorman is Institute executive director.

Craftsmen Earn $800 At GCI Annual Art Show

Approximately 120 visitors bought more than $800 worth of merchandise from 24 inmate artists and craftsmen during the Second Annual Arts and Crafts Show at Glades Correctional Institution Saturday.

The amateurs were showing off 501 pieces of arts and crafts at the show, with exhibits ranging from drawing to paintings to leatherwork, to candlemaking and plastics. One inmate, Manuel Alvarez, even specialized in frames for the pictures of other men painted and drew. Alvarez said he makes each frame to match a given picture, coming up with such combinations as a picture within a frame within a frame and a painting of a lion enclosed in a cage-like frame.

There were also displays of string art, photography and decoupage for visitors to examine in the visitor's park as they listened to the entertainment offered by GCI's two bands, one country and western and the other rock. The show was the second in what appears to be the beginning of a long series of annual events, coordinated by the Citizens' Volunteer Services Program.

One of the reasons for the program, according to Charles L. Sawyer, the inmate coordinating the show in the absence of program chairman Mrs. Natalie Nachman, was to give the public a chance to both see and buy the inmates' products.

Some of the inmates were content to stand in the background while the visitors gave their wares the once-over, but some were busily turning out more handiwork.

Dan Beal, Earl Sweeney and Arthur Vantine had a hot place set up on a couple of tables they were sharing and anyone interested could watch as they added to their candle collection.

The candles were made by heating clear paraffin, coloring it and dropping wafers of dye into the melted wax, adding scent from one of three small bottles, and pouring it into molds.

"In some of these," Sweeney explained, "you pour the wax around the wick and on others, you wait until the candle has hardened and then add the wick through a hole you bore with a screwdriver or something."

Beal said one of the hottest items he has going in the plastics hobby is a complete set of chess men. He said they are particularly popular among the people who visit the visitors park.

Besides the chess set, the table was loaded with an assortment of articles such as bolos, ornaments equipped to be stuck onto refrigerators with magnets, ear rings and statuettes, molded in clear, translucent and opaque plastic.

"And if you think that," Beal said, indicating the melting paraffin with its rose scent, "smells bad, you ought to smell the plastic when we're working with it."

Sawyer, the inmate coordinating the show in the absence of program chairman Mrs. Natalie Nachman, was to give the public a chance to both see and buy the inmates' products.

Wayne Luce Earns Eagle

Wayne Luce, son of Dr. and Mrs. Mendel J. Luce of 801 N.E. First St., was the center of attention Sunday at Everglades Presbyterian Church as he was awarded Eagle Scout rank.

Wayne, 16, was presented the award by Troop 621 Scoutmaster Robert Fincannon. He became a cub Scout in 1965 and a Webelos Scout in 1968.

He joined Troop 688 as a Tenderfoot six months later and in 1971 transferred to Troop 621 where he has served as librarian, Assistant patrol leader and Patrol Leader. He is currently serving his troop as Assistant Senior Patrol Leader. He attended the national Jamboree in Idaho last summer as Assistant Patrol Leader and attained Eagle rank with 21 merit badges.

Wayne belongs to the Order of the Arrow, serving the local chapter as treasurer, recently passing his Brotherhood Degree for the order of Camp Tassah Keeta.

He is a sophomore at Glades Day School where he has been a member of the band for four years.

Grady's Candidacy Official

DR. JOHN GRADY announces election plans.

Belle Glade City Commissioner John Grady was travelling throughout the state this week announcing his candidacy for the U.S. Senate seat currently held by Sen. Ed Gurney in a series of news conferences. Grady's announcement has been expected since it was formally announced during a party rally in St. Augustine on Jan. 12 the American Party wanted him as its candidate for the race.

It will be his fourth political campaign in less than two years, including two campaigns for his city commission seat and another race for the state senate.

He switched parties last week, going from the Republican Party just before making his bid for the state senate.

came in the form of a news release issued Monday and he began a series of news conferences the same day in West Palm Beach. He was scheduled to appear in several other cities, beginning with St. Petersburg, that same day, returning home Tuesday evening before hitting the road again today.

Grady said he is entering the race because he feels time is running out of American, adding, "there may not be elections in 1976 unless there are improvements in 1974."

"The decline in our position of pre-eminence is the direct result of the smothering effect of too much government and too many regulatory controls," he said.

Glades Correctional Institution inmates show how they do their own thing during second annual art show sponsored by the Volunteer Citizens Service Program. In upper picture, Earl Sweeney and Arthur Vantine are caught in the act of making more candles for their collection. To left, Kenneth Sloan and Manuel Alvarez show how Alvarez' cage-frame for painting of lion is made. Directly above, an inmate-artist puts finishing touches on portrait of leopard.

A BIBLE TALE

Read your hearts, not your garments, and turn back to the Lord, your God, for he is gracious and compassionate, patient and abounding in kindness. (Lovel 2:13)

This holiday message of The Jewish Theological Seminary of America is distributed as a public service by Seminary friends and supporters.

When you hear of Jonah, do you think of a whale?

According to the Bible, Jonah was swallowed not by a whale but by a big fish.

Mistaking a big fish for a whale is no misfortune. But it is a misfortune to treat the Book of Jonah as a fish story.

God told Jonah to go to Nineveh and warn its people to turn from their evil ways.

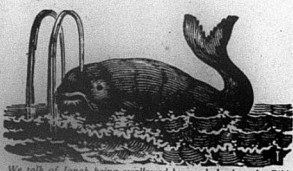

Yet Jonah took the first ship in the opposite direction. The real question is not whether Jonah could survive three days in the belly of a fish but — Why did Jonah run away?

Jonah refused to help the people of Nineveh because he judged them unworthy. He wanted to see the wicked punished. As God's prophet, he knew that they would be destroyed if they really changed.

Jonah fled not only his duty, he fled God's compassion.

Jonah was inflexible. He preferred the punishment of the wicked to the possibility that they could change. He wanted God's decrees to be final, not influenced by human endeavors. He resisted the reality of a basic principle of faith: it is never too late to turn from evil to good.

Ultimately, Jonah realized he could not run away. When he was released from the big fish, the reluctant prophet did go to Nineveh, accepting his mandate.

We talk of Jonah being swallowed by a whale, but the Bible says it was a "big fish" and a whale isn't a fish, it's a mammal.

As Jonah had feared, the people of Nineveh heeded his warning. They fasted and put on sackcloth. The king himself fasted and sat in ashes, declaring:

"Let everyone turn from his evil ways and from the injustice of which he is guilty. Perhaps God will relent, and we shall not perish."

"Because its people turned from evil ways to good, in true repentance, Nineveh was saved."

This is why the Book of Jonah is read in the synagogue on Yom Kippur, the most sacred day of the Jewish year, climaxing the ten days of repentance, of turning.

It is a tale for our time, about us. Nineveh and Jonah are alive.

Injustice is everywhere. Many try to run away from God and from compassion. Many judge others as being inexorably doomed.

Like Jonah in flight, some would rather see the corrupt trapped rather than absolved and rehabilitated. They would rather wallow in anger or succumb to despair than reach for and celebrate the healing powers of repentance and renewal.

They resent the truth that God's justice includes

Thoughts

From The Living Bible

"(Inside the Tabernacle), make a veil from blue, purple, and scarlet cloth, the fine-twined linen, with cherubim embroidered into the cloth. Hang this upon four acacia pillars overlaid with gold, with four golden hooks. The pillars are to rest in four silver bases. Hang the curtain from the hooks. Behind this curtain place the Ark containing the stone tablets engraved with God's laws. The curtain will separate the Holy Place and the Most Holy Place. Now install the mercy place—the golden lid of the Ark—in the Most Holy Place."

Search For Truth

By Larry Swaim

KNOWING GOD

Dear Mr. Swaim, how can we know God? I have a very close friend who says that he can learn as much about God by watching a beautiful sunset or looking at flowers than he can by going to church or reading the Bible.

It is true that "the heavens declare the glory of God and the firmament sheweth forth his handiwork" (Psalm 19:1). It is equally true that man cannot know God in the ultimate sense through nature alone. The word of God has been given to us for purpose. One of those is to reveal God's nature to us and to share with us what He expects. It is impossible to get this detailed information simply from observing nature. Nature and its beauty are supplementary evidence as to the existence of God and His love and care for us, but the Bible is written that we might know Christ perfectly and that we might come to find salvation in Him.

These are written that we might believe that Jesus is the Christ, the Son of God, and that believing, we might have life through His name" (John 20:31).

It sounds as if this person is looking for an excuse not to attend church or study the word of God. So many people will go to any extent to eliminate restrictions in their lives. To me, this is a cop-out, and any person who gives serious thought to the situation will realize that one cannot learn as much about God or Christ or even about himself, from simply looking at nature as he can through a study of God's word, for God's word reveals to us in explicit detail God's nature and our relationship and responsibilities to Him.

For a confidential and Biblical answer to your question, write Larry Swaim, 945 Ponce de Leon Avenue, NE, Atlanta, Georgia 30306.

The Task

I took a piece of living clay
And gently formed it day by day,
And molded with my power and art
A young child's soft and yielding heart.

I came again when days were gone;
It was a man I looked upon;
He still that early impress bore—
And I could change it never more.

I took a piece of plastic clay
And idly fashioned it away,
And as my fingers pressed it still
It moved and yielded at my will.

I came again when days were past.
The bit of clay was hard at last.
The form I gave it still it bore
But I could change that form no more.

Nu Kappa Holds Ritual of Jewels

On Monday, January 21, Mrs. Tom Rumlait's home was traditionally decorated for Nu Kappa's Ritual of Jewels Ceremony honoring the chapter's newest members Mrs. Bob Carter, Mrs. Wynn Jones and Miss Renie Jo Lane.

Mrs. Richard Browning presided over the ceremony and business meeting.

During the meeting Corresponding Secretary reported she had received a letter from the Christian Children's Fund Inc. where Nu Kappa is sponsoring an 11 year old Indonesian boy named Joten.

The letter was written by Joten, but had been translated by the organization as he does not know any English.

The program for the evening was presented by Mrs. Ed Rongione entitled "Friendship" which was very appropriate for the occasion.

Refreshments of home made strawberry short cake with topping and cakes were served by the hostess.

Attending were Mrs. Glen Angel, Miss Cathy Battle, Mrs. Richard Browning, Mrs. Bob Carter, Mrs. Wynn Jones, Miss Renie Jo Lane, Mrs. Donnie Lindsey, Mrs. Kirby Norman, Mrs. Paul Prescott, Mrs. Ed Rongione, Mrs. Tom Rumlait and Mrs. Buddy Whitehurst.

Forget Dieting

The workshop with the most mouth watering course outline offered at the Palm Beach Junior College-Baking Workshop will again be taught by Ted Obermeyer, commercial baker, starting Feb. 5.

In the first lesson of the seven week Tuesday evening course Obermeyer will explain the use and care of equipment and the ingredients used in baking.

By the second meeting, the bakers will demonstrate the preparation of biscuits, muffins and quick breads.

Parker House rolls, croissants and brioches are covered in lesson three. Croissants are a rich, crescent-shaped roll of leavened dough and brioches are light-textured soft rolls or buns.

The fun of making miniature foods such as cheese straws, cheese biscuits and party shells is taught in lesson five.

Pie crusts-flaky, meaty, graham cracker, vanilla wafer, cream cheese and corn flake will be discussed the sixth week.

Obermeyer will take up ready mixes in the last session.

Registration for the Baking Workshop is in the Food Service Building, Room SC-13 at 7 p.m. The cost of $28 includes an extra fee for supplies.

Contact the evening coordinator's office 963-8006 for further information about this or other evening courses.

"Love American Style" was the theme of a recent party held for members and husbands of Omicron Iota Chapter of Beta Sigma Phi. The party was held Jan. 12, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Collinsworth.

Everyone enjoyed typically the theme of a recent party held for members and husbands of Omicron Iota Chapter of Beta Sigma Phi. The party was held Jan. 12, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Collinsworth.

Members, Mrs. Douglas Wedgworth and Mrs. Bill Mills. The girls were presented with their Ritual of Jewels pin upon completion of their pledge training and pledge ritual. The pins were presented in a lovely candle light ceremony at the home of Mrs. Roy Hayes.

Wedding Planned

DONNA MAY BROWN AND REGINALD LEWIS
...will be married at St. John's Episcopal Church

Suddenly the automobile is no longer the villain, the heavy, the bad guy. It took an energy crisis to turn the trick. A year ago the car was the bad guy, and the public and congress seemed to blame about 99 per cent of air pollution on the gas and diesel burners.

No charges or restrictions have been made on changing the old 1975 clean air standards for cars, but some may be. Now it is important to have cars running a little farther, even if they do produce a little more bad air.

We're not saying the pollution people were all wrong about cars, but it does seem that once congress gets bumping it's big fat nose into a man's business, that all sorts of wild and sometimes silly rules and regulations seem to spew out from Washington. A more gradual, more common sense approach now to auto emissions probably will be forced by the energy crisis.

REMEMBER TO TAKE IT EASY ON THAT CAR battery this winter at zero degrees, your battery has only 40 per cent of the cranking power that it had at 80 degrees. If your car box was half run down before, now it will produce only 20 percent of the power that a new battery would on a hot day.

LOTS OF FOLKS TALKING SMALL CAR these days. They come in and look small, then before you know it they want to try out the "standard" sized rig. A lot of them like the heavier car. See us here at JIN HERRING CHEVROLET-OLDSMOBILE in Pahokee for your new car!

ELECTRIC CARS SOON? PROBABLY not anything that would help in the gas shortage. Even if there were, ten million electric cars would sap the electric power, much of which comes from oil fired turbines. Electrics are still a few years away, practically.

Raider Wrestlers Take County Title

In high school wrestling action last week, GCHS won two meets a d lost one. The loss was to undefeated Fort Pierce Central by a respectable 35-22. The meet was even closer than the score indicates and featured many exciting and close bouts.

The highlight of the match came at the 117 pound division when outstanding Raider wrestler Clarence "Noddie" Brown faced undefeated Darrin McCarthy, who had beaten "Noddie" earlier in the season.

In a hard fought contest, Brown demonstrated his know-how and avenged his earlier failing with a 9-8 victory.

The final two bouts of the night were also exciting.

Raider Anthony Wilson moved up a weight class to the 187 pound division to face rugged Wallace Rushing of Fort Pierce. Wilson wrestled an impeccable match and scored a superior 13-0 decision.

At an undisturbed Raider Clark Lloyd faced Cobra Elliott Virgin for the second time this season. Although their first meeting was decided by only one point, this contest was all Lloyd's as he won 2-0.

Also on the Glades Central schedule for last week were North Shore High School and Suncoast High School. Unfortunately both teams forfeited to the Raiders. North Shore withdrew because of a lack of participation in their program, while Suncoast was a victim of the gas shortage.

The Glades Central dual meet season is over and the Raiders finished with an 8-5 record. Other team accomplishments were a first place finish in the Palm Beach County Tournament and a second place finish in the Suncoast Conference Tournament.

This week the grapplers are preparing for the District 5 Wrestling Tournament to be held this Friday and Saturday at Pompano Beach High School.

The following is a list on the Raider wrestlers and their individual won-loss tie records for the season: Jeff Colbert (7-9-1), Charles Payne (6-7), Perry Smith (6-3), William Clark (11-3), Robert Simpson (12-6), Wellington Rolle (14-3-2), Ronald Collins (14-3-1), Clarence Brown (16-3), Charles Smith (8-5), Dan Smith (6-1-1), Anthony Wilson (18-0-1), Clark Lloyd (20-0), Vance Brown (3-3), Bill Anderson (4-4), Wilton Hayden (3-3), John Andrews (2-4), Don Williams (1-1-1).

GCHS + JV = 14 Wins And Rising

With 14 scalps hanging from its collective belt, the Glades Central High School Junior Varsity Basketball team is well on its way to its second consecutive undefeated year. Coach Jay Seider, shown above with his team, has been combining his coaching duties with the JV team with assisting varsity coach Willie McDonald with the senior Raiders, who now have a

TODAY'S WORLD

"This season has been hampered by disappointment and frustration. My salary is only $65,000 when it should be at least $85,000."

Tournament Scheduled

The Belle Glade Ladies Golf Association will begin its Low Net Tournament Feb. 6, with trophies and prizes being awarded at the end of the year for the 54-hole match.

The association held a "Tea-To-Greet" match last week in which Mrs. Raphael Farjuel came in first while Mrs. Ernest VanLandingham took second place and Mrs. Sam Knight Jr. took third.

Other women participating in the match were Mrs. Malcolm Smith, Mrs. Al Beverly, Mrs. Claude Shirley and Mrs. Edward Duke.

At least three women from the Belle Glade Club will be competing in the Women's State Tournament to be held in Sun City this year.

Mrs. Sam Knight Sr., Mrs. Malcolm Smith and Mrs. Billy Weeks have already announced their intention of playing in the annual event.

The club's president, Mrs. Weeks, said she hoped more members would attend. A handicap of 20 or better is required to participate in this tournament.

Seems there has been a misunderstanding about the use of the softball fields between the Men and Women's Softball Leagues.

Several weeks ago I used the term fighting rather loosely in describing the apparent conflict between the two leagues as to who gets the use of the fields for certain nights.

I also pointed out the advantages and disadvantages of the four ball parks in this area, of which Pahokee has the best field.

Thanks to Randall J. Mills, I found out why the Pahokee field was well maintained. He said the Men's Softball League fixes it before each season begins.

I fully agree with Mr. Mills that a little work on everyone's part goes a long way and everyone should cooperate with each other in problems such as this.

But I would like to point out to the men involved in cleaning the field each year that the women have offered to help clean the field. Their offer was flatly refused.

And while the three other fields may not be as well kept as the Pahokee ball park, the women certainly do not discard them. If we did we wouldn't have anywhere to play ball since we can only manage to get Pahokee for one or two nights.

As I said before, I appreciate any suggestions that may help make problems easier for the leagues. But like the old saying goes, "Practice what you preach."

While I'm on the subject of softball, it has also come to my attention that several men went before the Pahokee City Commission and told it the women did not wish to use the Pahokee field this season. They claimed the women said they could not up the concession stand in Canal Point so they would rather have the Canal Point field.

I don't know where they got their information, but they couldn't have been more wrong. The women would like to use the field for at least one night a week if at all possible, mainly because of the concession stand problem.

Last year the concession stand took in one-third as much money in Canal Point as at Pahokee. The Women's league would be hurting in profits if they didn't have a chance to play in Pahokee at all.

The women are willing to let the men have the softball field for the majority of nights in the week. All they want is one night.

Is that too much to ask?

On to a happier note.

Glades Day School pulled a couple of upsets this past weekend in basketball. Last Friday they scrambled over the sixth ranked Class A team in the state by a wide margin of 10 points.

Then Saturday they upset Florida Air Academy by one point, giving GUS a record of 10 wins and 9 defeats. The first time the two teams met this season Florida Air Academy beat them by around 40 points.

Some turnaround, huh?

This Monday, Feb. 11 the Pops are going at it again as they take on the Glades Day School basketball team in another one of those Father-Son games. Only this time it's basketball. Our Fearless Leader, who turned out to be the heroic Father in the Father-Son football game by scoring the old folks' only touchdown, is going to give it the old college try again.

The game ought to be fun to watch.

Cypress, A Natural Answer

by Laymond M. Hardy

EDITOR'S NOTE: Mr. Hardy had been familiar with the Glades area and Lake Okechobee since he and his family moved to South Bay in 1927. He is further qualified as a naturalist with many years experience and several articles he collaborated on which have been published in National Geographic. He is also an agricultural consultant for Ciba-Geigy, Inc.

The following article will be used as basis for a segment of presentation Mrs. Marjory Stenman Douglas, author of "Everglades, River of Grass", will present Feb. 28 at the monthly meeting of the Lake Okechobee Audubon Society.

Hardy informed the Herald he would like the article published first in the Belle Glade newspaper because the raising of the Lake would effect Glades residents first and foremost.

A vast forest of scattered bald cypress, popash, and dense growth of giant pond-apple (tupelo apple) trees used to characterize the south Lake Okechobee area, including its islands: Kramer, Torrey, Rita and Rabbit Island.

There is great pond-apple forest, spreading from Belle Glade to Lake Harbor, contained the largest specimens of pond-apple trees recorded in the entire natural range of the species. Rabbit Island, now forgotten, was once a rookery of cypress, and should have been a snowy and common egret.

This no longer exists. A foresting plan should be submitted to the above listed islands are to become submerged again.

Bald cypress (Taxodium distichum) of great economic importance, planted in company with other native species, should dominate.

The cypress (Taxodium carolinianum) and pond-apple (Annona glabra) should be planted along marginal areas of the islands and along the south shores of Lake Okechobee, since they both furnish food for ducks and many other wildlife species.

Swamp privet (Adelia acuminata) and button bush (Cephaanthus occidentalis) are good food-producing species for wild ducks. The wood duck and Florida mottled duck both breed in the area, 90% of the wood ducks' food consisting of vegetable matter.

The everglades kite, now a rare bird would receive benefit from extensive plantings of trees in the Lake. The submerged trunks of the trees would provide a vast feeding ground for the kite, whose only source of food is the large Pomarine skua.

The snail will lay eggs on the trunks of trees above the water line. It often uses reeds, water lilies and other objects to attach its eggs, though these are more flimsy.

A vast tree planting project should be also in reducing water destruction done by hurricane.

The proposed project to raise the water level of Lake Okechobee to a much higher level than has been maintained since the great drainage era, might help to solve the problem of water shortage, but the resulting increased water threat during a hurricane should be considered.

The 1926 hurricane took a toll of 200 lives at Moore Haven, and the 1928 disaster took a toll of some 2,300 lives of persons who were drowned when hurricane winds blew Lake Okechobee's water inland near South Bay and Belle Glade.

There is now an extensive levee around Lake Okechobee, and it might do a satisfactory job of holding back anticipated water pile-up during an average hurricane.

But what if a really severe hurricane of, say, a 180-mile gale should come, and should move slowly, holding a sustaining wind in one direction for several hours duration?

The water would then spill over the present dike, and if wave action should cut the dike, a holocaust worse than that of Lake Okechobee's 1928 hurricane, or the Galveston disaster, could occur because of the now high density of population along the Lake's peripheral developments.

Let us request the Forest Service to plant the islands of the Lake with bald cypress (T. distichum) before the water table covers the major islands now being used for farming. The bald cypress is one of our valuable trees, providing rot resisting lumber with lasting quality equalled only by California's disappearing red woods.

Library News

Gustavo Sanchez has an art show in the public library's multi-purpose room. If you have a chance, stop by and see the paintings.

The school of the month for February is Lake Shore Junior High School. Students from there have the privilege of getting new library cards free if they have lost their old ones and they do not have to pay fines on overdue library books.

On Saturday Feb. 9, the movies will be "The Happy Ovals" and "Hercules". Show time is 2. Admission is free to children of all ages.

Do you take your choice of books from the best sellers list? If you do, you do not need to buy these books. The public library has most of the books on this list. Out of the ten on the fiction best seller list, the public library has eight which can be checked out to read.

If you do like to buy books to build up your own library, the public library has good books for sale for 10 cents each. Lewis, Greene, Knobel, MacLean and many other authors have books for sale for 10 cents each.

In addition to books the public library also has many foreign books for sale. Also at a cost of 15 cents a copy the library will xerox important documents or letters for you. Stop by your public library and make use of its many services available to you.

Library hours are: Monday noon-9, Tuesday-Thursday 9-9, Friday-Saturday 9-6, and Sunday Closed.

MISS JEANNIE C. RILEY TO STAR IN LABELLE Swamp Cabbage Festival later this month.

Jeannie C. Riley To Appear At Cabbage Festival

Country and Western singer Jeannie C. Riley will be featured entertainment at the Labele Swamp Cabbage Festival, along with The Homesteaders, at 8:30 p.m. Feb. 22 at the Labele Football Stadium.

Tickets for the performance are priced at $1 each and will be available at the gate. There will be no reserved seats.

Taxes Run Higher Than Food Costs

Taxes take almost twice as big a chunk out of the consumer dollar as food does. In 1973, the average American will have to work 2 hours and 30 minutes or eight 8-hour day just to pay his taxes.

But he'll only have to work 38 minutes to pay for his food and beverages.

THE UMBRELLA POLICY

If you are a success in life, you may very well be the target of extraordinary demands in personal injury damages awarded by the courts. For example, the $350,000 award to the parents of a child who drowned in a well-to-do contractor's pool. An award of $275,000 against a chain store executive in Texas resulting from personal injury in a car accident. The widow of an executive was granted $450,000 in damages against a business associate after her husband was killed in a company airplane.

Most liability policies wouldn't pay anywhere near those amounts. But now there is a "umbrella" policy which covers almost every risk under the sun for amounts between one and five million. It is inexpensive because it is in addition to your regular liability coverage. But if you happen to be a success, you may find it's nice to have an umbrella for that rainy day.

ENERGY TALKS

By Warren B. Davis
Director, Energy Economics
Gulf Oil Corporation

"Should the consumer's number one objective be the lowest possible price for his gasoline and fuel oil?"
"What the consumer's first objective ought to be is to have enough gasoline and fuel oil to satisfy his needs. Once he is assured of that, then his second objective should be to obtain them at the lowest possible price. Prices so low that they result in inadequate supply are not in the best interests of consumers."

Mr. Davis was principal author of the National Petroleum Council's "U.S. Energy Outlook" prepared for the U.S. Interior Department.

Classes Expanded

Community Education continues to expand in the Glades Central Community School as a record enrollment of more than 800 was reported in adult and vocational sections getting under way Jan. 14.

A total of 43 classes are currently in progress, with students' openings in the following: Beginning Sewing - Wednesday - 7:30-9:30 p.m.,

Cash For Cans To Stop Twice

February's mobile unit schedule for Reynolds Aluminum's cash-for-cans program in Belle Glade calls for two stops at 500 W. Canal St.

Figures for last month show 9,924 lbs. of aluminum, or 228,232 cans brought to the unit by ecology-minded individuals and groups.

Aluminum cans and other household scrap are redeemable at the rate of 10 cents per pound on Thursdays, Feb. 14 and 28 from 11 a.m. to 12:30 p.m. at 500 Canal St.

"Many civic clubs, churches, schools and other groups are finding aluminum can collection profitable as well as community service oriented. The organization can earn money for worthwhile projects and help combat litter in their community," according to Paul Hayden, regional recycling manager for Reynolds.

Automobile Mechanics - Tuesday & Thursday - 7:10 p.m., Beginning and Advanced Short-hand - Monday - 7:30-9:30 p.m., and Beginning and Advanced Typing - Tuesday or Wednesday - 7:30-9:30 p.m.

The Community Chorus meets each Tuesday under the direction of Mr. Walter Locke at the Glades Central Chorus room. Interested citizens should contact Mr. Locke at 996-7617.

Mini-Recreational continue to grow in the Glades Area. All elementary aged children are invited to attend. The parks are open each Tuesday and Thursday afternoons in the following locations: Belle Glade Elementary School, Lake more Junior High School and Grove Elementary School.

Lyons Park will open for playground activities in early March. The exact date will be announced later.

Karate classes are offered at the Lake Shore Jr. High Cafeteria each Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday from 7:10 p.m. in the cafeteria. Karate classes are also in progress at the Glades Central High Cafeteria each Monday and Thursday from 7:10 p.m. Open registration any evening with Mr. Lopez, the instructor.

For further information concerning any phase of the Community School activities please contact Mr. Lee Young, Director at 996-5216.

Men At Work

Forms for foundations are quickly taking shape in South Bay where Royals Construction Co. is building a new 8 Days Inn on US27. The inn will be operated by Royals, Inc. The 108-unit motel is one unit of a chain reputed to be the fastest growing motel chain in the nation. Besides the accommodations, Royals will also operate a Tasty World Restaurant on the site.

Local Plumber Dead At 57

Funeral services for Clifford Peter Lance, a retired plumber, were held Friday at the Belle Glade Church of God with the Rev. Roy Miller presiding.

Lance, who was age 57, had been a Belle Glade resident for the past 26 years, making his home at 409 S.E. Third St. He served in the U.S. Navy during World War II and was a member of American Legion Post #20 here. He had been employed by Richmond Plumbing before his death.

Survivors include his widow, Mrs. Leila Lance; his son, Donald C. Lance; three daughters, Mrs. Mary Kay Chancy, Mrs. Patricia Garrett and Miss Betty Jean Lance; his mother, Mrs. Vera Lance; a sister, Mrs. Sarah James, all of Belle Glade, and three brothers, Luther Lance of South Bay, William Lance of West Palm Beach and Garrett Lance of Belle Glade.

At Tom Norton Motor Company Good Service Is Our Bag!

My name is Sandy Scruggs and I have just taken over the parts department at Tom Norton Motor Company. We have one of the most complete parts inventories in the Glades. Nine chances out of 10 we'll have in stock the part we need for your car. But if we don't we can get it in a hurry. All of the old parts we take out of your car we will place [space permitting] them in the trunk of your car in a plastic bag. This way, you'll know exactly what we've done to your car and exactly what you have been charged for. All of us at Tom Norton are working to make sure you are pleased with the work we do on your car. If any of us can help you, please don't hesitate to call on us.
